Seattle, Washington

"I love it here! I've made so many wonderful lifelong friends and find a new adventure everyday!" -Brenda J. (ER Traveler)

Although Seattle is well known for its annual average of 36 inches of rain, the “City of Goodwill” still manages to attract over 600,000 residents, making it the 15th largest city in the United States and the largest in the Northwest. Along the way, it acquired nicknames such as the “Emerald City”, referring to the lush evergreen forests surrounding Seattle that receive 17.4 hours of sunlight a day. Seattle is home to Starbucks, fitting for a city known for its heavy coffee consumption, and legendary rocker Jimi Hendrix. Whether hitting the Pike Place Market to toss around some fish or feel like one with the ocean at the Seattle Aquarium, experiencing this city is an unforgettable journey...just remember an umbrella.
