Watch Out for IRS Tax Return Scams...

Protect yourself from online identity theft and other scams that increase during the tax filing season by taking the following precautions. Tax return scams have been known to impersonate the logo, names and design of the IRS or U.S. Department of Treasury to mislead taxpayers and lure them into providing personal and financial information.

Watch for e-mails that:

- Threaten to add additional taxes or withhold the tax refund should you not respond to the e-mail.
- Request personal or financial information. The IRS does not request such information through e-mail, nor do they send any communication requesting tax account information, PINs, passwords or similar access information for credit cards, banks or financial accounts.

If you receive a suspicious IRS-related e-mail do not reply, do not open any attachments and do not click any links. Forward the e-mail to the IRS at phishing@irs.gov. After forwarding the e-mail delete it from your inbox and outbox.

Our Newest Recruiters

David Dries

David comes to TGhealthcare with over seven years experience in the multiple facets of healthcare staffing and nurse recruiting and also has a Bachelor's in Healthcare Management. David was born and raised in Nebraska and like all true Nebraskans loves Husker football. When he's not cheering on the Huskers he's on the court playing basketball, sand volleyball and Tennis. And when he's not working finding people jobs, David enjoys spending time with family and experiencing the joys of being a first time parent to 6-month old baby, Ava. Give David a call or send him and email for details on your next assignment!

On Assignment In Wisconsin

From milestone anniversaries to the first run of Elvis Presley's favorite roller coaster, 2011 is going to be a big year for Wisconsin festivals, attractions and events. How will you see it all?

What better way than a travel nursing assignment!

While waiting for the next movie to come out, lovers of the "Twilight" series can relish in the newly added vampire exhibit at Ripley's Believe it or Not! in Wisconsin Dells.

There are plenty of new things going on in Green Bay in 2011, including the first annual Green Bay Film Festival. The festival will include nearly 70 films from nine countries as well as many made by Wisconsin filmmakers.

After a long day in the great outdoors of Madison, visitors can stop by Graze for some delicious dishes with ingredients grown from local Wisconsin Farmers. On your way out of Madison head to Spring Green to celebrate the 100th anniversary of Taliesin, the residence and workshop of legendary Wisconsin Architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

Located on the Southwestern shore of Lake Michigan, Milwaukee is the largest city in Wisconsin and is home to a variety of museums including the world renowned Milwaukee Art Museum, notable for its $100 million dollar wing designed by Santiago Calatrava.

For an outdoor experience, Boerner Botanical Gardens is Milwaukee's "living" museum. Travel back in time At Old World Wisconsin, an interactive museum where visitors can relive the spirit of America's Heartland. Experience innovation, science and technology through experimental learning programs at Discovery World. At Mitchell Park Conservatory visitors will encounter Earth's unique diversity of plant and animals species housed in its Arid, Tropical and Floral Show Domes.

Nicknamed the "City of Festivals", Milwaukee is host to the Wisconsin State Fair and Summerfest, an annual lake front music festival that attracts over 800 thousand visitors to its eleven stages.

Much like the infamous Pike Place Market in Seattle, The Milwaukee Public Market sells produce, seafood, meats, cheeses, vegetables and flowers.

Wherever you turn, Milwaukee's rich cultural history is alive and ever present in the hustle and bustle of this modern metropolis.

Ultimate Nachos

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Mix together ¼ c chopped red onion, ½ c chopped fresh parsley and ¼ c olive oil. Spread an 8 oz bag of tortilla chips in a single layer onto a baking sheet an evenly spread 1 lb seasoned ground beef (cooked) over the chips followed by 2 c shredded cheddar cheese. Bake nachos until cheese is bubbling (about 5 minutes) and top with diced avocado and tomato, onion mixture, olives and sour cream and enjoy!
